1. There have been indications that, on order of the Soviet authorities, large-scale construction and repair work is being done on the roads and railroads which converge from the east toward the Banat. Roads are being widened to seven meters, loading platforms and ramps are being constructed at the terminal stations of the wide-gauge network for the transfer of the material to the European gauge network. An influx into Bulgaria of Soviet military groups dressed in civilian clothes has allegedly occurred.
2. It is believed highly improbable, at least for the near future, that any serious events will take place in the Balkans. The above situation is considered an intensification of the "war of nerves".
